ATP PROJECT

WHO IS ATP SCIENCE?

We believe that in order to help people achieve whatever their health goals are we have to produce great products and back it up with great information in a way that people can understand and implement.

We believe we create “best in class” or unique products that no company in their right mind would create because to quote a venture capitalist we once spoke to “educating the market is business suicide”. Well - we did it. And yeah at first we were laughed at (and nearly went broke)...then we were ridiculed, then debated about and called “abstract” scientists and idiots and then finally (and this is when we knew we were making a dent in the market) other companies started copying us - and poorly mind you.

You see we don't use google keyword searches or marketing focus groups to create our products. We look at problems and then look at the means to solve that problem, without looking at what other people are doing. Doing this has led to 3 global patents (and soon to be 5) in product category's we believe are unique - a totally new class of product entirely - because we aren't sheep - we don't play follow the leader! We are a unicorn that makes its own path and helps people to get the results they deserve.

“OUR MOTO IS RESULTS NOT EXCUSES - AND WE LIVE BY THAT RULE FOR EVERYTHING WE DO.”

Some unique things we have done to create change in the supplement industry is educate people through our health podcast (The ATP Project) which is ranked consistently in the top five in the world on iTunes and currently receives over 250,000 listens every month.

We have been selected by Google as one of a dozen companies in Australia to work with them on a targeted “brand awareness” campaign for the USA which was launched November 2017.

Alpha Mars; Best Men's Supplement '16 & '17, Alpha Venus; Best Women's Supplement '16 & '17, Cort RX; Breakout Supplement of Year '16, T432 Plus; Fat Loss Supplement of Year '17, Amp-V; Overall Supplement of Year '17 For 2017 we were voted “Best Brand” knocking supplement giant, Optimum Nutrition from their #1 spot for the first time ever.

CORT RX - Adrenal Support

Cort RX has been formulated to help reduce the physical and mental burden of stress.

- Reduces our sensitivity to stress & buffers our stress response
- Calms adrenal overactivity and lowers cortisol response to stress
- Reduces the severity of the stress signal from inflammation, immune activation, toxic exposure & oxidative stress
- Anti-inflammatory
- Anti-oxidant
- Improves sleep & wake cycles

Your body can't afford to wait and see if your stress is life threatening, it may be too late to react if it waits.

Which type of stress will Cort RX help reduce?

- Worry, fear and panic over a past, present or future event.
- Hurry, worry and money.
- Pain, inflammation and immune activation.
- Exercise, playing and training is just as much a trigger as fighting or running away.
- Pollutants and toxic exposure is the same stress as exposure to poisons and venoms.
- Poor sleep patterns and poor sleep quality, insomnia or waking unrefreshed from sleep.

Suggested Use:

Always consult with a healthcare professional before starting any new supplement, diet or exercise campaign.

- If going through periods of stress, worry or injury: take 1 capsule 3 times daily within 30 minutes of eating.
- If tired but can't get a good night's sleep: take 2 before bed.

"With CORT RX – I'm sleeping better, my joints feel better, my mental clarity is better and my physical state is better just to name a few. I've been using ATP Science products for a long time now, my reason being because THEY WORK and I get the result they are designed for." @garvan.robert

MULTI FOOD- Phytonutrients & Botanical Cofactors

We believe that vitamins and minerals from organic, natural sources that are found as a vitamin complex with all of their different natural forms along with their synergistic cofactors are more easily absorbed and are used in the body more effectively than single nutrients. In an ideal world, we shouldn't need to supplement our food with anything. Unfortunately, with modern farming practices, processing and storage techniques of our foods in combination with the daily stresses of our modern life and our reliance on processed and packaged foods, we can't avoid supplementing our diets. It is not well known by most Americans that most 'natural' vitamin supplements are synthesized in a lab from genetically modified bacteria. At ATP Science, we believe in natural sources for our supplements. We have searched the globe looking for farmers and scientists who have perfected the art of farming, processing and storage techniques to make food that is standardized to contain vitamins and minerals, naturally.

Vitamin and mineral cofactors are necessary for every system in the body to work.

- Synthetic vitamin supplements supply isolated and imbalanced forms of single nutrients without their naturally occurring cofactors. Multi Food contains no synthetic ingredients.
- Multifood is made up of organic biodynamic fruit and vegetable powders that have been tested and measured every batch to know the vitamin content.
- No Genetically Modified Ingredients have been used in Multi Food.
- Free from solvents, chemicals and pesticides.
- Not just vitamins and minerals; but also includes phytonutrients, polyphenols and other plant based nutrients that are missing in your standard multivitamin.

How do you know if Multi Food is for you?

Production, activity, conversion and detoxification of the following all require the vitamin and mineral cofactors. They include:

- Energy production cycle in every cell of the body - the Krebs cycle.
- The proper function and production of hormones.
- The production of neurotransmitters.
- A proper functioning immune system.
- Digestive and systemic enzymes.

Suggested Use:

Always consult with a healthcare professional before starting any new supplement, diet or exercise campaign.

- Take 3 capsules daily within 30 minutes of eating. May take all 3 capsules at once or divided up into 1 capsule 3 times daily.

For the first time in years that I have had an almost "normal" cycle... I've just had a 30 day cycle which for me is unheard of and hasn't happened in many, many, MANY moons thanks to PCOS. And for the first time ever, what seemed like a PMS/PMT FREE cycle too... usually in the week leading up to #auntflow arriving I am a psycho... I have panic attacks quite regularly, cry A LOT, bloat, feel nauseous, in a fair bit of pain in my lower back and abdomen, have a seriously disgusting acne breakout and get quite depressed and my anxiety levels are out of control... has not happened at all this time round which is why I'm so fricken happy and excited! @atpscience thank you, I could not be happier!! @stephjeffsfitmum

- Take 1 capsule 3 times daily within 30 minutes of eating..

"My current goals are increasing my metabolic rate & getting my maintenance calories around 2000+ . Because I am increasing my caloric intake and consuming more food i take T432 Plus with my breakfast, lunch and pre workout meal. This helps so much with digestion, bloating, insulin sensitivity and to help maximise my basal metabolic rate. I have been increasing calories now for roughly 5-6 weeks and my weight has stayed the same, sometimes a couple hundred grams less. I defantly see & feel this product assisting me through this process and I'm loving it" @tineshamisky

"Today I had a fitness test which included the worst thing ever invented... the beep test - Considering I had been practising all week and struggled to make my needed 6.5 I decided to really put this stuff to the test. So this morning I chased 2ml of AMP-V with a double shot coffee and gave it my best. All I know is I breezed through my sit ups, push ups and scored an 8.3 on the beep, I was the only girl today and the last person still running. I honestly felt like I had heaps left in the tank and wanted at least a 9.0 but they cut it off as everyone was done and I only needed the 6.5! One happy girl today! PROTOTYPE 8 - Global Patent Granted

Prototype 8 is a globally patented serum delivering arginine and phytoecdysteroids directly to the target site before, during and after training depending on your goals and style of training.

- Enhanced vasodilation at target site.
- Improved regeneration and repair.
- Improved muscle - mind connection.
- Target problem areas that fail to change.
- Especially effective when applied to glutes, quads and hammies for booty building.
- Potent thermogenic effect.
- Site specific arginine delivery.
- Source of phytoecdysteroids.

Effects of Rosemary Essential Oil & Peppermint Oil

- Rosemary oil is a very powerful stimulant of the brain and central nervous system (CNS) making it a very effective tool in helping to clear the mind and focus on the task at hand
- Also has the unique ability of working transdermally and via inhalation to access the brain and CNS without adding burden to the adrenal gland and stimulating excessive catabolic cortisol release
- Activates the sympathetic nervous system to induce alertness and energetic arousal like caffeine or amphetamines and amphetamine-like compounds can but has actually been shown to decrease cortisol release.
- The combination of rosemary oil with peppermint oil has a synergistic effect and the combination shows a more profound action than when used alone.
- Also enhances the parasympathetic nervous system which results in an accumulation of acetylcholine in nerve synapses; focus, concentration span, growth and recovery.

Suggested Use:

- May use twice daily after shower on target muscle groups
- May use again 1 hour to 30 minutes pre-training to activate muscle-mind connection
- Avoid using immediately pre-workout as the pump can be too fast and too full and becomes inhibitory. Instead use during your workout for the final few sets to finish off your session with maximum pump.

Ingredients

NOVAS™ (An international patent pending formulation)

Water, Emulsifying Wax NF, Cyanotis vega Extract, Rosmarinus officinalis (Rosemary) Oil, Alcohol, Helianthus annuus (Sunflower) Seed Oil, Caprylic/Capric Triglyceride, Ricinus communis (Castor) Seed, Hydrogenated Castor Oil, Copernicia cerifera (Carnauba) Wax, Cera alba (Beeswax), L-Arginine HCL, Rosa canina (Rosehip) Fruit Oil, Glycerin, Sorbitol, Piper nigrum (Black pepper) Seed Oil, Mentha piperita (Peppermint) Oil, Tocopheryl Acetate, Aloe barbadensis Leaf Juice, Stearic Acid, Xanthum Gum, Sclerotium Gum, Glyceryl Caprylate, Sodium Phytate, Potassium Sorbate, Sodium Benzoate, Benzyl Alcohol.

"Here is my experience on a sub dermal cream for vasodilation (prototype 8) during a hamstring curl. Long story short I had the best soreness plus I got a myotherapy treatment days later which was the most painful treatment of my life to which the receptionist could hear me screaming...worth it! Why was it worth it? Because I knew my fascia had been stretched to enable growth plus the increase in protein synthesis and glycogen uptake is a big win for me. I have never experienced a pump like that and waddled out of the gym. I'm adding this to my regular system in the gym but only in my last exercise because the pump is inhibitory." @josh_lenartowicz

BLOCK E3 - Body Shaping Serum

Block E3 is formulated as a body shaping serum to target your problem areas with estrogen dominant fat stores that seem resistant to change.

» What is estrogen dominant fat?

Estrogen dominant fat is the isolated pockets of fat located directly under the skin in the locations shown in the diagram below. Estrogen dominant fat is often resistant to change as it is capable of creating a biochemical trap whereby the estrogen is made in the fat itself and doesn't escape. While there it makes more fat, and creates a vicious cycle that can be almost impossible to break with supplements, diet and exercise.

See diagram below:

Who should use Block E3?

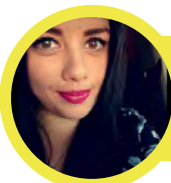

- » Those with problem areas highlighted in the diagram above
- » Men with boobs aka moobs / man boobs
- » Lower abdominal fat rolls aka Love handles, lower back fat, estrogen pockets on outside of hips

Ingredients

Water, Glycerin, Emulsifying Wax NF, Helianthus annuus (Sunflower) Seed Oil, Caprylic/Capric Triglyceride, Ricinus communis (Castor) Seed, Hydrogenated Castor Oil, Copernicia cerifera (Carnauba) Wax, Cera Alba (Beeswax), Oroxyllum indicum (Chrysin), Rosa canina (Rosehip) Fruit Oil, Fucus vesiculosus (Bladderwrack) Extract, Piper nigrum (Black pepper) Seed Oil, Stearic Acid, Xanthan Gum, Sclerotium Gum, Glyceryl Caprylate, Potassium Sorbate, Sodium Benzoate, Benzyl Alcohol.

Suggested use:

- » Massage block e3 directly onto the estrogen dominant fat sites as demonstrated in the diagram above twice daily

"ATP pulling the goods yet again, dry brushing this on morning and night after my shower err ma gawd it's like gold lube. This stuff has reduced my cellulite so much throw in some deadlifts at the gym and you have a killer combo. Loving the ATP range at the moment." @nivvy_aukett

SUBCUT - Body Shaping Serum

Subcut is formulated as a body shaping serum to target your problem areas with subcutaneous fat stores that seem resistant to change.

» What is subcutaneous fat?

Subcutaneous fat is the fat located directly under the skin which is obvious to the naked eye and is the tissue that is pinched by the callipers when measuring body fat levels. Subcutaneous fat is often found to have poor blood and nerve supply and is reluctant to release fat back into your system once it locks it up. Furthermore, due to the isolation and poor blood supply it makes it very hard to deliver fat burning ingredients taken orally as tablets and potions. Making subcutaneous fat the most resistant type of fat and the last to respond to supplementation, diet and exercise.

Who should use Subcut?

- » Those who are prepping for a body building or fitness physique event
- » Those who have hit a plateau with their fat loss and have isolated resistant areas of fat
- » Those prepping for photo shoot
- » Anyone with stubborn fat areas that will not change
- » Anyone that wants to improve muscle definition and appearance

Ingredients

Water, Glycerin, Helianthus annuus (Sunflower) Seed Oil, Emulsifying Wax NF, Caprylic Triglyceride, Cirsium oligophyllum Seed Powder (Silybin), Rosa canina (Rosehip) Fruit Oil, Ricinus communis (Castor) Seed, Hydrogenated Castor Oil, Copernicia cerifera (Carnauba) Wax, Cera alba (Beeswax), Caffeine, Paullinia cupana Seed Powder, Coleus forskohlii Root Extract, Eucommia ulmoides Leaf Extract, Piper nigrum (Black pepper) Seed Oil, Stearic Acid, Xanthan Gum, Sclerotium Gum, Glyceryl Caprylate, Potassium Sorbate, Sodium Benzoate, Benzyl Alcohol.

Suggested use:

- » For best results massage directly into fatty locations twice daily and use again immediately prior to exercise.

"Caught out in my daily routine using @atpscience #SUBCUT. Genuinely LOVE this stuff!! I always get lots of questions about this product. Yes, I have been using Subcut daily. Yes, it definitely makes a difference for me. I notice a big change when I apply to my hamstrings, calves and abductors (this is where I hold SO much of my fat)." @jazcorrell
