Quality and distinction for your gluten products

An increasing number of consumers either choose for, or are obliged to follow, gluten-free diets. And all too often 'no gluten' means 'no taste'. But it does not have to be that way. For a century and a half, Royal Buisman has been providing the caramelised sugars that add flavour and colour to products in need of just that little bit extra. Like gluten-free foods. Adding our signature to yours.

NATURAL CARAMEL INGREDIENTS

That little bit extra

Caramelised sugars, provided by Royal Buisman in convenient powdered or liquid form provide a final touch of flavour and colour for health-oriented bakery products, and can add a sparkle of freshness to your breads, cakes and biscuits. Gluten-free eaters are, almost by definition, label readers, and so it is good to know our caramelised sugars are not only free from gluten but also free from carriers, additives and e-numbers: 100% natural, 100% pure. High intensity means low dosage, and so a very cost effective way to both upgrade flavour perceptions and add your own unique signature to your products.

The secret: caramelised sugars

Better flavour.

Warmer colour tones.

Natural appearance.

Reduced process times.

Improved textures in certain recipes.

Tangy aftertaste.

No acrylamide, no e-numbers.

All this with easy integration into your manufacturing processes.

Working together to better serve consumers

Providing consumers with superb taste in health-oriented products can be quite a challenge. A challenge in which we are on your side. Working together in test bakeries -yours, or ours- we can help you find precisely the right ingredient, recipe and dosage

- to optimise colour and taste,
- to hide the sour and salted taste that so often haunts gluten-free products,
- to boost nutty, chocolate or roasted tones, or
- to intensify natural flavours.

And: we can do so cost effectively.
